

TeachingBooks®

COPPA Compliance Notice

(Updated January 7, 2024)

Dear [Parent or Guardian's Full Name],

We are writing to you in connection with our subscription to TeachingBooks—an online literacy resource we license to deepen connections to the books and authors read in our community. We use TeachingBooks as part of our reading and comprehension efforts.

We want you to know that we have oversight and control of login details, and that TeachingBooks does not knowingly request, store, collect, or distribute any information about students who are under the age of 18. Period. No first name. No email. No student rostering information. Nothing.

What follows is a privacy notice TeachingBooks, along with their Founder & Head's contact information if you have any questions or concerns.

Parent/Guardian Privacy Notice from TeachingBooks

The purpose of this notice is to explain the data privacy plan of the TeachingBooks service we license. This notice explains how personal data is collected and used, for adults and children. Please note that this notice is only about what TeachingBooks does with personal data, not our institution.

Who Is TeachingBooks And How To Contact TeachingBooks?

TeachingBooks is a small, dedicated team working to enrich every student's reading experience. The organization's mission is to "equitably give all readers insights and opportunities that deepen their understand and joy of the books they are reading."

TeachingBooks strives to empower every reader to...

- Connect deeply with a book
- Gain new insights and understanding from the author
- Thoroughly experience the joy of reading.

Learn more about TeachingBooks and the staff of professionals who develop and support this service at <https://teachingbooks.net/About>

You can contact TeachingBooks via <https://teachingbooks.net/Contact> or 866-269-5794 (Press 2).

Regarding Personal Collection of Data

TeachingBooks.net does not knowingly collect any information, including any identifiable information from students in PreK–12 environments. Specifically regarding children under 13, we do not collect, maintain, use or share student data to third parties. If you are a person under the age of 13, we do not want to receive any personal information about you—including information like your name, address or email address. In the event that we learn that we have collected any personal information from a child under the age of 13 with or without verification of parental consent, we will delete that information from our database as quickly as possible. Please contact us if you believe we have inadvertently collected information from a child under 13 by emailing accounts@TeachingBooks.net.

Student access to our materials does not require any personal information as part of authentication.

How To Get More Information

For more information on TeachingBooks' privacy practices, you are encouraged to review the full version of TeachingBooks' Privacy Policy, available at www.TeachingBooks.net/Policies or contact TeachingBooks directly as noted above.